CERIC's Online Application Portal

CERIC is currently accepting proposals to develop innovative resources in career counselling and career development. We invite both individuals and organizations (e.g. education, community-based, non-profit, private, etc.) to submit project proposals for career counselling-related research or learning and professional development.

What do our Project Partners say about working with CERIC?

Partnership Applications

ONLINE APPLICATION PORTAL

Using this system, you can develop and submit your Letter of Intent (LOI) for project partnership support. You can use this portal to refine your LOI, submit an Application if asked to do so, and track status of your LOI or Application.

Partnership Applications

Project Partnerships Help

CERIC was launched to encourage and provide education and research programs related to the development, analysis, and assessment of the current counselling and career development theories and practices in Canada.

CERIC is currently accepting proposals for projects that promote and/or support career counselling related research, learning, and professional development opportunities and material.

Letters of Intent are welcome from individuals, for profit and non profit organizations, community based organizations, agencies and educational institutions. Visit our website for additional information.

Before you submit a Letter of Intent, please refer to the projects that have already received funding by CERIC in the past. Visit the Project Partnerships page on our website to learn more. Also, refer to the Application FAQs before you start.

To submit a Letter of Intent for your project, sign up for an account on the right. With an account, you can save your application and return to it later, find out the status of your submission and more.

If you would like to submit a project partnership application in French, please follow the application instructions in French on our website.

Test Project Cannexus (23.01.16.2019)

Letter of Intent

Currently, CERIC is especially interested in the following areas:

- Career practising with social and economic impact
- Early intervention to assist children's career decision making
- Impact of career services on policy and programs
- New emerging career development theories and career management models
- Entrepreneurial education and career development

Funding will not necessarily be limited to these special interest areas. If you have a career-related project that promises innovation in the area of career counselling and development, please submit a Letter of Intent. Upon receipt of your Letter of Intent, you will be notified if you have been approved to proceed with the preparation of a formal funding proposal.

Letters of Intent are welcome from individuals, non-profit organizations, community-based organizations, agencies and educational institutions.

Before you submit a Letter of Intent, please refer to the projects that have already received funding by CERIC in the past. Visit the Project Partnerships page on our website to learn more.

For more information about our application process and additional support, refer to our Application FAQs page to learn more about Guidelines for Working with Non-profit Organizations, Ethical Research Guidelines, and Sample Consent Forms.

Use CERIC Literature Searches

These bibliographies, compiled by CERIC staff, are organized around various themes in career development and can be used by those doing research in the field. They feature comprehensive listings of key articles in various areas of career development, highlighting critical points of current knowledge.

Literature searches are of great use if you are considering a submission to CERIC for project partnership funding. You can gain an overview of major work already done in your area of interest.

Ensure that you...

- Give your project a title
- Provide full and correct contact details
- Use the checklist in the application package
- Provide all supporting materials (such as signed letters of support on letterhead and CVs)
- Check your submission for spelling (eg. "counselling" not "counseling")
- Verify the totals in your budget

CERIC SUPPORTS AND YOUR PROJECT

Final Reporting

- All CERIC funded Project Partnerships are required to provide a project final report as part of the overall set of project deliverables.
- Project partners are encouraged to read the requirements in this template prior to commencing the project. This will allow you to collect and note the necessary details over the project life cycle. The receipt and approval by CERIC of the project final report are a condition of project closure.

Final Reporting

The final report's objective is to inform the reader of the implementation of the project; that is, to document what was intended, what was actually carried out and to give a concise explanation of the differences, positive and negative.

Final Reporting

Project End Reporting consists of two components:

- 1. Final report of the project proceedings connecting the project intent, as specified in the proposal, with the project outcome(s); and,
- 2. Financial reporting.

#1 is a public facing component; #2 is only reviewed by the CERIC Board of Directors along with the approved final report and should be submitted as a separate document.
